

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A mobile platform fire detection system includes a plurality of smoke detectors locatable in a compartment of a mobile platform. Heat sensors are also positioned in the compartment. At least one indication panel is located outside of the compartment and adjacent to an entranceway into the compartment. The indication panel operates to identify an alarm condition of each of the smoke detectors and the heat sensors.